General Information about CMS/MSIS2082, data source of this report:

(Based on CMS report, available at URL: <http://www.cms.hhs.gov/medicaid/msis/caveats.asp>)

CMS/MSIS2082 data represent people on the Medicaid rolls, recipients of Medicaid services and the payments for claims adjudicated during the year. The data reflected bills adjudicated, or processed, during the year rather than the services used during the year. States submit individual eligibility and claims data tapes to CMS on a quarterly basis via MSIS (the Medicaid Statistical Information System).

Starting FFY1999, CMS started reporting Title XXI funded Medicaid expansion enrollment and expenditures data on MSIS2082 reports. As a result, use caution when comparing FFY1999 and later Medicaid State Reports to prior years.

Caveats:

The general quality of the data is only as reliable as the data submitted to CMS by States. Federal edits are performed to validate individual data elements, check consistency between data elements and verify reasonableness of distributions between reporting periods.

Some year-to-year shifts from one Maintenance Assistance Status (MAS) to another or from one Basis of Eligibility (BOE) to another could be the result of improved data quality reviews by CMS and their contractor.

Payments, or vendor payments, from MSIS include dollars for all claims adjudicated during the fiscal year. Vendor payments reported include capitated payments for managed care plans. MSIS payments do not agree with the CMS-64 financial figures because they do not include payments made outside the claims processing system (e.g., payments made to disproportionate share (DSH) hospitals) and differences in accounting time lags.

MSIS slightly understates reporting for children under age 1. Many children born in August and September are omitted from MSIS because these newborns may not be added to the State eligibility file until after the end of the fiscal year.

Some States show more beneficiaries than eligibles for certain cells. This can be a result of expansion of beneficiary counts for services rendered prior to the reporting year or shifts from the unknown categories. Significant shifts in eligibility groupings (MAS and/or BOE) from prior years may have occurred because of improved data reporting and more rigorous data quality reviews.

All separate, or State only, SCHIP enrollees are excluded from the tables. There are no Medicaid dollars associated with these individuals while they are in the separate SCHIP program.

Refer to CMS document titled “MSIS State Anomalies/Issues: All States (URL: <http://www.cms.hhs.gov/medicaid/msis/anomalies.pdf>) for details on state specific data anomalies and other data issues.
