Valuable AAP Web Sites & Resources

Through extensive work by members and staff, the Academy creates resources that positively impact children, their families, and their medical home team.

HealthyChildren.org

healthychildren.org

The official AAP web site for parents—and the only parenting web site backed by 66,000 members. Parents will find more than 5,000 articles on over 500 children’s health topics as well as interactive tools such as the KidsDoc Symptom Checker and the Ask the Pediatrician column. The site’s popular Find a Pediatrician service features only AAP member physicians and specialists. HealthyChildren.org is available in English and Spanish with an easy toggle between both languages. Members will find helpful ideas for spreading the word to the families they serve at healthychildren.org/spread-the-word.

Physician Reentry

physicianreentry.org

Have you taken an extended leave of absence from clinical practice, or are you planning to do so? Access resources to help when you leave or re-enter the workforce. Our toolkits provide strategies to stay involved and manage personal, financial, and licensure issues. Subscribe to the new AAP Physician Reentry Portal for access to a customizable online space to receive state-specific reentry news, resources, and contacts; a place to record, store, and access reentry activities; and resources for every stage of reentry. Learn more at http://shop.aap.org/AAP-Physician-Reentry-Portal. Members log in for special pricing.

YoungPeds Network

aap.org/ypn

A young pediatrician-driven website that contains links and resources for the newest generation of physicians. The YoungPeds Network is a portal specifically designed to connect our young members with the resources they need at this stage of their careers.

Pediatric History Center (PHC)

aap.org/pediatrichistorycenter

The PHC safeguards those values which are unique to the practice and profession of pediatrics by providing access to our historical records of the AAP and of child healthcare in North America. For more information contact the Academy Archives at 800 433 9016 ext. 7093 or history@aap.org.

---

Life Support Programs

APLS: The Pediatric Emergency Medicine Program

aplonline.com

Access current information for assessing and caring for critically ill and injured children during the first hours in the emergency department, or in an office-based setting.

Neonatal Resuscitation Program (NRP)

aap.org/nrp

Experience an evidence-based approach to newborn resuscitation. Understand the causes, prevention, and management of mild to severe neonatal asphyxia to develop optimal resuscitation skills.