Implement the Pediatric Public Health (PPH) Curriculum Guide into Your Training Program

Implementation Strategies for a PPH Curriculum

The PPH Curriculum Guide is designed to be flexible and to fit into your existing residency program.

Each “Step” will provide you with suggestions, activities, and tools to plan and implement a PPH Curriculum into your residency program.

Step 5: Implement a PPH curriculum into your residency program. Develop an implementation plan that includes the length of time you have decided upon for residents to complete the curriculum. Create a structured timeline and activities to support a PPH curriculum in your residency program.

- Which objectives will be prioritized in your program? It may be best to pick one that would be relatively easy to address and one that may take more effort and require more time.
- List the different opportunities to teach residents the PPH goals and objectives.
  - Noon conferences
  - Grand rounds
  - Rotations (e.g., newborn nursery, developmental-behavioral pediatrics, adolescent medicine, community pediatrics, child advocacy)
  - Continuity clinic
- What tools and resources exist to teach residents the PPH objectives?
  - Hands-on experiences, field trips, on-line modules, etc.
- Determine the length of time that you will expect residents to participate in the curriculum (decide whether to implement the curriculum in 1 rotation, over 1 year, or over the whole course of residency training).

* Use the “Implementation Tool” to create a plan and timeline for your program to implement new curricular activities.

 Remember to use the activities and resources in Step 4 to guide or develop new ideas for this step.

(Modified from the AAP Breastfeeding Curriculum Website found at http://www.aap.org/breastfeeding/curriculum/gen_implementation_strategies.html)