2009 AAP AWARD WINNERS

Outstanding Achievement Award
(Council on Community Pediatrics and the Section on Epidemiology)

Recognizes pediatricians who have made outstanding contributions toward advocating for children and child health in the community through the effective use of epidemiologic information.

Laurene Mascola, M.D., M.P.H., FAAP

Dr. Mascola is chief of the Acute Communicable Disease Control Program for the Los Angeles County Department of Public Health, which performs disease surveillance and epidemic control activities for 80 diseases and syndromes. She attended St. Louis University Medical School, received an M.P.H. from the University of California, Los Angeles and was a Centers for Disease Control and Prevention Epidemic Intelligence Service officer. Chair of the infectious diseases committee of the Council of State and Territorial Epidemiologists, Dr. Mascola also is on the National BioWatch Epidemiology Advisory Workgroup. She has extensive experience in epidemiology and disease prevention and published numerous articles and some book chapters.