

Access Pediatric Patient Education handouts

1. Go to <https://patiented.solutions.aap.org/>
2. Click on the Sign In icon on the upper right corner

The screenshot shows the top navigation bar with the AAP Point-of-Care Solutions logo, the American Academy of Pediatrics logo, and a 'Sign In' button circled in red. Below the navigation bar are links for 'Pediatric Care Online™', 'Red Book® Online', and 'AAP Pediatric Coding Newsletter™'. The main header features the 'Pediatric Patient Education™' logo and a search bar. A navigation menu includes 'Home', 'All Handouts', 'Well Child Visit Handouts', and 'Handouts by Collection'. A banner at the top right states: 'DID YOU KNOW? Pediatric Care Online™ subscribers get FULL ACCESS to Red Book® Online and Pediatric Patient Education™?' with a 'Learn More' button. The main content area is divided into two columns. The left column features a large purple banner for 'Pediatric Patient Handouts' with a 'View All Handouts' button and a 'Download a FREE Sample Handout!' section with a 'Download Now' button. The right column lists several handouts with their titles and language options (English | Spanish): 'December 2016 Update: Back to Sleep, Tummy to Play', 'A Parent's Guide to Head Lice', 'Temper Tantrums: A Normal Part of Growing Up', and 'November 2016 Update: Beyond Screen Time: A Parent's Guide to Media Use (formerly "Digital Media and Your Family")'. Below the banner is a 'Browse All Handouts' section with a grid of letters from A to Z.

3. Enter your AAP login credentials and click the Sign In button.

The screenshot shows the login form on the website. It includes a 'Sign In' button at the top right, a text input field for 'AAP Login', a text input field for 'Password', and a purple 'Sign In' button. Below the password field are links for 'Forgot password or AAP Login?', 'Create account', and 'Why create an account?'. At the bottom, there is a link for 'Sign in via: OpenAthens'. A purple banner at the bottom of the form reads 'entering your practice information'.

4. Your name will appear in the upper right corner to verify that you are logged in

The screenshot shows the top navigation bar of the AAP website. On the left is the AAP Point-of-Care Solutions logo. In the center is the American Academy of Pediatrics logo with the tagline "DEDICATED TO THE HEALTH OF ALL CHILDREN™". On the right is a user profile icon labeled "Your Name". Below the main header are three tabs: "Pediatric Care Online™", "Red Book® Online", and "AAP Pediatric Coding Newsletter™". Below these is the "Pediatric Patient Education™" logo and a search bar with a "Search" button. Underneath the search bar is the text "Expert advice from the American Academy of Pediatrics". At the bottom of the header is a navigation menu with four items: "Home", "All Handouts", "Well Child Visit Handouts", and "Handouts by Collection".

5. Once logged in, you will have access to all the handouts.

The banner features a dark purple background. At the top, a black bar contains the text "DID YOU KNOW? Pediatric Care Online™ subscribers get FULL ACCESS to Red Book® Online and Pediatric Patient Education™". Below this, on the left, is a stack of three sample handouts. The top one is titled "Diaper Rash" and includes sections like "What is diaper rash?", "What type of diaper should I use?", and "When to call your doctor?". To the right of the handouts is the main heading "Pediatric Patient Handouts" in large white font. Below the heading is the text "Pediatric patient education handouts from established American Academy of Pediatrics programs or publications". In the bottom right corner of the banner area is a red-bordered button that says "View All Handouts". At the bottom of the banner is a dark grey bar with the text "Download a FREE Sample Handout!" on the left and a purple button that says "Download Now" on the right. A tablet device is shown in the bottom right corner of this bar.

This block contains a navigation bar for browsing handouts. It features a red-bordered rounded rectangle. On the left is a hand icon pointing to a list icon, followed by the text "Browse All Handouts". Below this is an alphabetical index of letters from A to Z, each in its own box. The letters A through Q are in dark purple, while X, Y, and Z are in a lighter grey color.

6. Click on the title of a handout you would like to view.

Pediatric Patient Education™ Expert advice from the American Academy of Pediatrics

Home All Handouts Well Child Visit Handouts Handouts by Collection

All Handouts

A B C D E F G H I J K L M N O P Q R S T U V W X Y Z

Acne > Acne

- ADHD
- Adolescents
- Adoption
- Air Bag Safety
- Alcohol
- Allergies
- Anaphylaxis
- Anemia
- Anesthesia
- Anorexia
- Antibiotics
- Anxiety

Patient Education Handouts

Acne—How to Treat and Control It
English Spanish

A Minute for Kids

Teen Acne and Diet

7. You will be able to see the full contents of the handout.

Pediatric Patient Education™ Expert advice from the American Academy of Pediatrics

Home All Handouts Well Child Visit Handouts Handouts by Collection

Patient Education Handouts

Acne—How to Treat and Control It

SPANISH PRINT SHARE PDF CUSTOM HANDOUT

Request Permissions

Related Handouts

- Diaper Rash
- Fun in the Sun: Keep Your Family Safe Hand-Foot-and-Mouth Disease
- + See More

Got ZITS? You're not alone.

Almost all teens get zits at one time or another. It's called acne. Whether your case is mild or severe, there are things you can do to keep it under control. Read on to find out how.

What causes acne?

During puberty, your skin gets oilier. This can cause pimples. There are many myths about what causes acne, but there are really only 3 main causes.

- Hormones. You get more of them during puberty. Certain hormones, called androgens, trigger the oil glands on the face, back, shoulders, and upper chest to begin producing more oil. This can cause acne in some people. Some girls get more pimples before and during their periods. This is caused by changes in the levels of

8. You can also view the handout in PDF format by clicking on the PDF link.

The screenshot shows the Pediatric Patient Education website. At the top left is the logo for Pediatric Patient Education™. To the right is a search bar with a 'Search' button. Below the logo is the text 'Expert advice from the American Academy of Pediatrics'. A navigation menu includes 'Home', 'All Handouts', 'Well Child Visit Handouts', and 'Handouts by Collection'. The main content area features the title 'Acne—How to Treat and Control It' under the heading 'Patient Education Handouts'. Below the title are several interactive links: 'SPANISH', 'PRINT', 'SHARE', 'PDF' (circled in red), and 'CUSTOM HANDOUT'. A 'Request Permissions' button is located below these links. On the right side, there is a 'Related Handouts' section with links for 'Diaper Rash', 'Fun in the Sun: Keep Your Family Safe', and 'Hand-Foot-and-Mouth Disease', followed by a '+ See More' link.

Got ZITS? You're not alone.

Almost all teens get zits at one time or another. It's called acne. Whether your case is mild or severe, there are things you can do to keep it under control. Read on to find out how.

What causes acne?

During puberty, your skin gets oilier. This can cause pimples. There are many myths about what causes acne, but there are really only 3 main causes.

1. Hormones. You get more of them during puberty. Certain hormones, called androgens, trigger the oil glands on the face, back, shoulders, and upper chest to begin producing more oil. This can cause acne in some people. Some girls get more pimples before and during their periods. This is caused by changes in the levels of

If these steps were used to correct an issue but the issue persists, please contact the Customer Service Center at 800.433.9016 or email us at csc@aap.org for further assistance